New-Hampshire Legislature-Governor's Message-Loco-Foco State Convention-Abolition Meetings, &c. Correspondence of The New-York Tribune. CONCORD, N. H., June 7, 1813.

The Legislature of New-Hampshire convened in this place yesterday. In the Senate, Hon. St. NON P. Colby of Hillsborough, was appointed President; in the House, SAMUEL SWAZEY of Haverhill was re-elected Speaker. Of course these men are both Loco-Focos of the most radical stamp. Out of 222 votes cast for Speaker, 137 were for the successful candidate. The Whig vote (for Andrew Pierce, Esq.) was 73. Isaac

Hill's party cast 6 votes ! To day the Governor elect (HENRY HUBBARD of Charlestown) took the oath of office, and delivered the customary Address, in the presence of the two Houses and a large concourse of citizens. The Address was extremely long, occupying more than an hour and a half in the reading; and, what was not a little amusing, wound up by recommending a short session! His Excellency, of course, does not expect the Representatives of the people to imitate his own example in respect to the length of their speeches, otherwise the whole year to come would hardly suffice for the ordinary purposes of legislation. According to the statements of the Governor, the finances of the State are in a very prosperous condition. The sum of $35,000 has been borrowed, and another temporary loan may be required to meet the immediate wants of the government; but it is estimated that the tax already levied will be sufficient, when collected, to pay the whole debt and leave a balance in the Treasury. The Geological Survey of the State has been completed, and the Report of the Surveyor will be submitted to the Legislature. The Asylum for the Insane has gone into operation under the most favorable circumstances. Seventy patients have been received since it was opened, 20 of whom have been returned to their friends in their right mind. The number of inmates at the present time is 50 .---The laws of the State have been thoroughly revised by Messrs. Bell and Fox, and published in convenient form. The Governor congratulated the Legislature on the completion of this work, and recommended great caution in making alterations of the system. He even recommended that no law hereafter enacted should take effect until thirty days after the meeting of the Legislature next succeeding that by which it may be enacted ! The Primary Schools of the State were commendstituting the heart of the body politic. Their character, the Governor thought, would be greatly elevated, if the higher branches of English study, Mathematics, Philosophy and Political Economy, were made a part of their system of instruction. The State Prison was represented to be in a flourishing condition, its receipts being just about suf-

On the Political topics of the day, such as the Tariff, Land Distribution, &c. the Governor went the whole length of all the views of the most ultra portion of his party. On the subject of the Tariff, he was particularly vehement, declaring that it imposed enormous burdens upon the people, and was worse than Agrarianism, in that it robbed the poor for the benefit of the rich, while the latter only took the property of the rich and divided it among the poor! His Excellency also maintained that Railroad Companies should in no circumstances be empowered to take land needful for their purposes without the full consent of the owner, and expatiated, in the usual style of his party, on the subject of Individual Liability for corporate debts. The Address was tolerably well written, but delivered in a style of bombast which indicated that self-esteem was somewhat largely developed on his Excellency's cranium.

ficient to meet its expenses.

The Loco-Focos held their State Convention this day, Hon. LEVI WOODBURY presiding. I listened awhile to his speech on taking the chair. It was a ranting, ad captandum effort, well charged with flattery of the dear people! He declared that he would rather live under the rule of the Grand Turk than in a country where a corporation was invested with power to take a man's land without his consent, to build a railroad. Governor Hubbard having declined a reelection, John H. Steele, Esq., of Peterborough was nominated as the Loco-Foco candidate for that office. He will be elected, unless the Whigs awake from their long slumber, for Hill, judging from present indications, will make no headway against the Radicals.

The Abolitionists of the State are holding a meeting here at the present time. They assembled yesterday at the Town Hall, the churches being all closed against them. JOHN W. CHAN-DLER (the man who took a wife lately on his own book, without the forms of law,) and the notorions Amgan. Folsom, of Boston, have annoyed them much by their interruption of the business before the meeting. Yesterday the meeting preented a scene of confusion unrivaled since the town meeting at Ephesus, of which we read in Scripture. To day I am told there has been less disturbance, and some fine speaking by several gentlemen from Massachusetts, and some most delicious music from the Hutchinson family.

The country looks finely now, although vegetation is very backward. Concord has grown rapidly within a few years, and the opening of the Railroad to Boston has imparted new life and animation to business. Yours, Traveler. The Concord Patriot (not Hill's,) in its account of the Loco Convention, says:

"Hon. H. Hubbard was chosen a delegate at large to the National Convention, and the selection of five others was referred to the Counsellor Conventions, as previously practiced in this State. The question of nominating, subject to the decision of the National Convention, Mr. Van Buren for the Presidency excited considerable debate, involving the policy of the nomination by the State Convention of any candidate, but admitting hat Mr. Van Buren is the choice of the Democney of New. Hampshire."

FIRE AT KINGSBORO .- We learn by a letter from Kingsboro, in this State, that on Tuesday evening a fire broke out in the dwelling of Mr. Gordis, which, together with the adjoining outhouses, was completely destroyed; and we regret to learn that Daniel Potter, while using his Caroline County, and Mr. James George. exertions in quenching the flames, was shockingly injured by the falling of the chimney-so much to that his life is despaired of by his friends. writing magnificent treatises upon contempt for riches, Seneca had contrived to accumulate a little fortune of 85,000,000 francs. An astrologer, named Lentulus, was content with 56,000,000 francs. When Tiberius died, 642,000,000 francs were found in his coffers, not a franc less. In less than a year good Caligula spent the whole of it; there remained not an as, not a quadrans. The debts of Milo amounted to 120,000,000 francs. Casar had not 49,000,000 francs, but 49,000,000 creditors before he obtained an public office; the poor fellow was soon enabled to present Curio with 12,000,000 francs, and Lucius Paulus with 7,500,000 in other to detach them from the party opposed to him; he one day begged Servilia, the mother of Brutus, to accept a trifle in the shape of a pearl worth 550,000,000 francs. Mark Antony's house was sold to Mesalla for the sum of 10,000,000. A fire destroyed Scaurus's villa; the loss was reckoned at 22,000,000 francs. When Crassus supped with Lucullus, the cost of a sans ceremonie meal amounted to between 40,000 and 100,000 francs! and after the death of that recfined Consul, the fishes that swam in the pond of his country-house were sold for the trifle of 700,000 francs. Otho spent 26,000,000 on the finishing of a wing of a palace commenced by Nero. One of Caligula's dinners cost 1,800,000 francs. Heliogabalus was more parsimonious; one of his breakfasts only required 500,000 francs. Æsopus swallowed a pearl worth 200,000 francsa gastronomic example also set by Cleopatra. The Esopus we advert to, (his son by-the-by, melted precious stones to drink at his entertainments!) was not, as you may well suppose, the olly fabulist and Greek hunchback whom every pody is acquainted with; but Claudius Æsopus, an actor on the Roman stage, very intimate with Cicero; this opulent historian carned in one day more than eight handred Stoic, Pythagoric, or Peripatetician philosophers could pocket in a year. Apicius, the most celebrated gourmet of the 'eternal city,' devoured (we use the proper word) 14,-000,000 france; he then examined his financial situation, when the poor creature found that all that remained was 1,950,000 francs; foreseeing that he must die of hunger, he committed suicide. Crassus, when he went to fight the Parthians, and be killed by them, was the possessor of landed estates worth 40,000,000 francs; his slaves, furniture, and trinkets, were, fortunately, of a little

Correspondence of The Tribune. A PRAISEWORTHY UNDERTAKING.—The District of Southwark has long been noted for its vile dens of infamy, the receptacles of the most infamous and abandoned characters. Repeated efforts have been made to destroy them, but in almost every instance a signal failure occurred, from the fact that the District has ever been the hot-bed of Loco-Focoism for the county of Philadelphia, whose police officers connived at and associated with the keepers of the nuisances in question! But an effort is now making by the active, energetic, and highly useful Superintendent of Police, Archibald J. Cozzens, which, so far, has been crowned with signal success. No less than ten arrests and commitments have been made within the past week, and an equal number of disorderly houses closed. However, a strong opposition prevails to arrest the moral reformation of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above officer on the part of corrections of the above of the part of corrections of the above of the part of corrections of the part of the par far, has been crowned with signal success. No formation of the above officer, on the part of certain notorious characters, esteemed the leaders of the "Democracy," and whose names are well known in our community. Mr. Cozzens has been frequently threatened with violence while in the discharge of his duty, and yesterday T. S. Lister was bound over in $300 for an assault. We certainly dwell in a strange land, when the once strong arm of the law becomes terrified and paralyzed, its administrators associating with those who thus seek to destroy our fair fame, and the press deterred from the utterance of its sentiments in consequence of "popular opinion," as expressed by the most depraved and worthless of

The Evening Post translates from the Courier des Etats Unis of April 27th, (some weeks be- A MEMOIR ON IRELAND, NATIVE AND SAXON. fore the news of the British outrage upon the Sandwich Islands was received) the following article in relation to the recent French usurpations in the Pacific:

"The American Continent has long been called the New World. While Oceanea, which the Creator has scattered like so many sea-marks along a line of four thousand leagues between Europe and Asia. It is toward Asia that the movement of expansion which now agitates the two worlds principally directs itself; it is there that their genius seeks to create safetyvalves for their industry, whose excessive development threatens to cause an explosion. It is important, therefore, to occupy stations as soon and as firmly as possible, near that Asiatic continent which has awakened the desires of political ambition and mercantile avidity. Holland and England, those rival speculators, have been the first to take their positions.

"Holland possesses Java, by which she commands the entrance of the seas which wash the coasts of Eastern Asia; Sumatra, Banca, Billeton, Madoura, a great part of the Celebes, Borneo, which is 285 leagues long and 250 wide; the Archipelais 285 leagues long and 250 wide; the Archipelagos of Sumbara and Timor almost entire; the cluster of the Moluccas, the country of spices. Her dominion extends over a population of more than ten millions souls. For a long time England made no opposition to the extension of the colonies of Holland in Oceanea; fearful of the rivalry of this power for her own possessions on the Asiatic Continent, she was glad to see her opening to herself a path in another direction. Britain, therefore, has founded an establishment in New Holland to check the progress of her rival. Still more recently she has occupied a station in New Guinea, as if to bar her progress and say to her— Thus far, and no

"It was now time that France should make one in this game and contribute her stake. The taking possession of the Marquesas Islands was the first of her winnings; that of the group of Tahiti is the second. These two points of occupation are happily chosen, and mutually strengthen each other. The Marquesas offer but one good port, that of Nouka Hiva; the soil is mountainous, arid, the cultivation limited and unproductive, and water, that nourishing milk of the earth, almost wanting. At Tahiti, on the LORD BYRON'S WORKS .-- Messrs. Carey & Hart | contrary, the plains are immense, the soil is of prodigious fertility, water is abundant, all the ports are excellent, and nature has defended them by coral reefs which render them almost inacces. sible to a hostile force. Upon the above, the Post justly remarks:

This is an exposition, no doubt a fair one, from a French source, of the policy of France in the seizure of the Marquesas and the Society Islands. The powers of Europe, such of them as possess a marine, are snatching, one after another, at the isles of the Pacific, esteeming them any material difference between the act which appropriates the Sandwich Islands to the British Gove nment, and that which suddenly makes the helpless islanders of Otaheite subjects of Louis Philip. That beautiful island, inhabited by a race fast advancing in civilization, with its immense plains, its fertile soil, its commodious ports, fenced with coral reefs, on which the French journalist dwells with so much apparent delight, was too tempting a possession to be left under a government of its own choice. Those plains, that soil, ПГ FIRTH & Hall, No. 1 Franklin Square, Philip. That beautiful island, inhabited by a race ment of its own choice. Those plains, that soil, those ports, are the offence for which it is seized and made a French colony, and for a similar crime the Sandwich Islands are added to the possessions of Britain.

We talk not of what may be called the Reading Public, nor even the masses in Ireland, for whom, no doubt, a cheaper edition will be prepared, with a view to general circulation. The impression we speak of is that which must be felt by Statesmen-by Sir Robert Peel, by Lord John Russell, by M. Guizof and M. Thiers. That the volume will have an European and an American circulation, may be taken, considering the Author and the subject, as a matter of course. Next week, if not already published, it will be printed in English at Paris and at Brussels, and in a month there will be a translation, perhaps, too, into French. We cannot doubt that German versions will appear in Berlin. Dresden, and in Munich: for the King of Bavaria, though a Legitimist, is a thorough Catholic. It will pass the Alps, too. Dresden, and in Munich: for the King of Bayaria, though a Legitimist, is a thorough Catholic. It will pass the Alps, too, and "the English in Italy" will have the satisfaction of reading O'Connell's History of Ireland in "choice Italian." We should not be surprised if the Emperor of Russia would command a Sclavonian translation, if only to show the Poles that there have been more horrid, more persevering, and more bloody persecutors of the Catholic Church than he has been. As to its circulation in America, we need not speak; there will be twenty editions in twenty weeks, and, no doubt the Mearcans will speedily read the work in Spanish.

This, then, is a book universal; it will be read by all men, and in all literary languages, in the course of twelve months.

The proprietors are daily receiving from the medical profession, ministers of the Gospel, officers of justice, and numerous private citizens, ample and willing testimony, both written and verbal, to the superior value and efficacy of this preparation. To the poor it is furnished gratuitously on sufficient proof being given of their worthiness.

Still further proof of the superior value and efficiency of Sands' Sarsaparilla:

Sands' Sarsaparilla: New-York, April 29th, 1843. Messrs, Sanns: Gentlemen—Although it may be considered unnecessary for me to add another proof to the justly deserved celebrity of your invaluable preparation of Sarsaparila, yet for the benefit of my fellow men. I feel bound to proclaim the fact: From boing a most helpless cripple, with a disease of the lower extremities, which spread over the legs, instep, and feet, distressing me so much, as to render life almost miserable. I am new quite recovered and entirely by the use of your Sarsaparilla. For two years I was mable to wear a shoe, and the right foot and anche were very much swollen—which at times discharged water and pus freely, accompanied with violent itching—and burning sensations, so cas to denrive me of all rest. I gave up in despair, and supposas to denrive me of all rest. I gave up in despair, and supposas to denrive me of all rest. I gave up in despair, and supposswollen—which at times discharged water and pust freely, accompanied with violent itching—and burning sensations, so as to deprive me of all rest. I gave up in despair, and supposed amountation would be necessary; but hearing of great cures made by your Sarsaparilla, I resolved to make another effect to regain my health—and now under the blessing of a kind Providence, I am thankful to say I am well. With feelings of graditude to you and thankfulness to the giver of all good, for thus blessing the means. I am, your friend,

JAMES McCONNELL, No. 469 Greenwich st.

New-York, April 30th, 1823.

This is to certify that James McConnell cailed on me and exhibited his foot and leg, and stated, that by the use of eleven bottles of Saxos's Sarsaparilla, a perfect cure had been effected. With feelings of the warment gratitude to Messrs. Sands in thus being instrumental under Divine Providence, in curiog and restoring him to health, requests me to give this certificate.
